Body of Hitler Found in Berlin

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, JR.
(For the Combined American Press. Distributed by International News Service)

BERLIN, June 6 (INS)—A high Russian military source revealed today that Adolf Hitler's body had been found and identified with fair certainty. The body, smoke-blackened and charred, was one of four discovered in the ruins of the great underground fortress beneath the new Reichschancellery.

The bodies, any one of which answered pretty well to Hitler's description, were removed and carefully examined by Russian army physicians.

All the bodies were badly burned by the flamethrowers with which the Red Army finally cleared out the underground command post where Hitler and his leading Nazis made their last-ditch stand.

After careful examination of teeth and other characteristics, the Russians singled out one body which they believe almost certainly is that of the Fuehrer.

Asked why no official announcement of the discovery had been made yet by Moscow, this Russian source said that as long as any element of uncertainty existed, the Russians did not wish to state definitely that Hitler's body had been found.

The source added, however, that there seemed little doubt that this actually is Hitler's corpse.

Hitler Goebbels

Examination of the body showed that Hitler almost certainly died of poisoning.

It will be recalled that Russian sources recently reported that Hitler died of an injection given him by his physician, Dr. Morel, after he had been insane and half-paralyzed for several days.

According to a telegram sent by Propoganda Minister Dr. Paul Josef Goebbels to Doenitz, Hitler died at 3:30 p. m. on May 1.

Goebbels' own body was discovered by the Russians in the same underground shelter, together with those of his wife and children. All had died by poisoning.

Goebbels apparently had administered poison to the members of his family and then committed suicide. His body was found practically decapitated by a shell splinter or explosive charge which had caught him full in the neck, almost tearing his head from his body.

The bodies of Goebbels and his family also were badly burned, but were identified.

The Russians have given no hint as to how the bodies of Hitler, Goebbels and other Nazis found in Berlin have been disposed of. This probably will remain a secret for all time to guard against the possibility of Nazi fanatics trying to recover the bodies.

JAP FORTIFICATIONS WILL BE JOB FOR FLAME-THROWERS

Japs Boast of Great Underground Forts

By RUSSELL BRINES

MANILA, June 6 (AP)—Tokyo broadcast an elaborate description today of vast underground fortifications and supply areas in the Japanese homeland, which it boasted would introduce "a new kind of underground warfare."

The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press monitor in Manila, claimed the Jap mainland has been built into an "impregnable fortress" during time gained by actions fought on Pacific islands to delay the American advance toward Nippon.

A correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi was quoted as saying "all of our operations since the Guadalcanal campaign ensured the time Japan has needed by exacting heavy sacrifices in blood from the enemy."

Underground fortifications, the broadcast said, are linked by a network of communications and supplied by subterranean ammunition, foodstuffs and supply dumps. Even stables have been built beneath the surface.

Japan's homeland fortifications were reported carefully planned by expert engineers and built to permit interlocking fire covering all maneuverable landing areas.

"A new kind of underground warfare is being prepared by the Japanese, so different from anything used in Europe it will mark a new epoch in military history," the radio said. It boasted that bombs cannot knock out the underground positions.

Most American soldiers here believe Japan's fortifications will prove an elaboration of the extensive network of caves, tunnels and gun positions encountered repeatedly in the central Pacific and the Philippines. Few were eliminated by preinvasion bombing and naval bombardments, as witness Iwo Jima, Okipawa and Luzon's Cagayan valley.

But doughboys are becoming expert at reducing them afoot.

This type of warfare minimizes Jap offensive opportunities but creates a nasty job for U. S. infantrymen. Americans have long expected the enemy would adopt the same tactics in the homeland with greater skill.

Japanese were called upon to follow the example of the children of Aka Jima, who were reported to have "blasted themselves with hand grenades" against American troops storming the island prior to Okinawa's invasion.

Domei News Agency carried the plea in a poem by a Japanese soldier.

The tribute to the "tiny special attackers," who purportedly died with their futile "banzai" attacks, concluded, "none can help but follow in the wake of these children of Aka Jima."

Hint Big Parley Site Selected

LONDON, June 6 (AP)—A hint the site of the next Big Three parley already had been set was given Commons today, as one report that the first meeting of the delegates to the Allied control council in Berlin had ended abruptly created new anxiety here.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Anderson told Commons there was no chance the Big Three would meet in London, leaving the suggestion [illegible] had been selected.

18 WACs, 3 Fliers Lost in African Flight

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—An Army transport plane carrying 18 WACs and a crew of three has been missing for a week on a 766-mile flight in Africa, the War Department announced today.

The plane left Accra, British West Africa, on a flight to Roberts Field, Liberia, on May 30 and was last reported over Takoradi, British West Africa, 150 miles west of Accra.

The WACs, members of a group assigned to the Army Transport Command base at Accra since last October, were being transferred to a new assignment.

Planes and surface craft have undertaken a widespread search for the missing plane along the French ivory coast, between British West Africa and Liberia.

Although some WACs were wounded by bombing in England and at least one lost her life in an air crash in this country, these are the first WACs reported lost overseas during the war.

The WACs and their next of kin, who have been notified, follow:

Sgt. Doris F. Cooper, Champaign, Ill.

Corp. Velma H. Holden, Asheville, N. C.

PFC Evelyn L. McBride, Inglewood, Cal.

Reds to Get Part of U. S. Zone in Reich

LONDON, June 6 (AP)—The Moscow radio broadcast a Tass Agency report today disclosing the Russian zone of occupation in Germany would include a large area now in American and British hands.

The broadcast describing maps published in Moscow newspapers, was recorded by the Soviet monitor.

The text accompanying the map said Russia "will occupy German territory (including East Prussia) situated east of a line running from a point on the shore of the Gulf of Lubeck where the borders of Schleswig-Holstein and Mecklenberg meet, along the western border of Mecklenberg to the border of Hannover, then along the eastern border of the Province of Hannover to the frontier of Brunswick, along the western border of the Prussian Province of Saxony to the western border of Anhalt, then along the western border of the Prussian Province of Saxony and along the western border of Thuringia to its crossing with the Bavarian border, and from there it runs east along the northern border of Bavaria as far as the Czechoslovak frontier of 1937."

Nimitz Silence Points to Big Okinawa News

By HAMILTON W. FARON

GUAM, June 6 (AP)—Jap units in southern Okinawa "now firmly entrenched in new positions, were locked in fierce fighting yesterday" with American troops, Japanese Domei News Agency reported today as an unexplained news blackout of island ground operations developed at American headquarters.

Adm. Nimitz failed to mention Okinawa land operations, reporting only air strikes into Jap home waters.

Such omissions of mention of important operations often have preceded the announcement of exceptional news—possibly the conclusion of a campaign.

On Okinawa last reports put the Yanks on half of Naha airdrome and to the east pushing relentlessly toward the southern tip of the island. Only a 13th of Okinawa remained in enemy hands.

Walda, Hubby In Hub Friday

By A GOSSIP COLUMNIST

Good Evening, Mr. and Mrs. North and South America, and All the Ships on the Sea and in the Air, Let's go to press . . . FLASH! Add things I never knew 'til now.

Walda Eileen Winchell, 18-year-old daughter of a New York newsman, Walter Winchell, is the bride of a Cambridge man, William Lawless, 28, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawless, of Elm st., that city . . . His father is a retired Boston El motorman . . . The bride's papa counts his earnings in six figures.

Attention, Boston newspaper city editors and photo desks: The newlyweds will arrive in Cambridge Friday when the bridegroom, recently granted a medical discharge after four years' Army service, will introduce Walda to her mother-in-law.

The couple's elopement was a complete surprise to both families . . . The scooperoo this time went to Alexander Graham Bell . . . A Ringer! . . . Ha! Ha! Ha! . . . The bride's father first learned of it on the West Coast over the invention of Don Ameche's double . . . The telephone call came from West New York, N. J., slightly off the beat of a Broadway columnist in Hollywood . . . He gave them his blessing.

EXCLUSIVE! . . . Walda Winchell and Lawless met when she appeared with a group of entertainers at Camp Crowder, Mo., where he was stationed . . . He has been seeing her weekends since his Army discharge, traveling to New York from his present $40-a-week job in an MIT laboratory in Cambridge.

The bride has been appearing in a Broadway play (The Moon Is Down) (Adv.) under her stage name of Toni Eden . . . Her mother was the first person she told.

And now for the MALE as the time will allow . . . Bill Lawless was educated at St. Mary's parochial school in Cambridge and at Cambridge High and Latin School . . . He graduated from the latter institution in 1933 . . . All four of his years in the Army were served in this country . . . Since doffing khaki for mufti he has been attending the Vesper George School of Art . . . He has two sisters, Miss Margaret, 26, and Mrs. Mary Wolfe; and three brothers, Sgt. John, 32, with the Army in the Philippines; F-2c James, 37, in the Navy (ah! the Navy) , and Joseph, 39.

Bill's folks knew he was seeing Walda, but "never dreamed" it would end in marriage.

And that, ladies and gentlemen, winds up another edition of Your One Man Newspaper's scoopless reviews . . . This is your Broadway wag signing off without a gag. You cannot talk with your tongue in your cheek when your heart is in your mouth. Good night.

Child Bride Gives Up Army Cash

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—Back in 1941 when Mary Lou Marshal was 15, she told Superior Judge John A. Sbarbaro yesterday, she married an Iowa farm youth, Alvin Wasson, "as a favor."

Wasson, now 23 and a corporal stationed in Italy, begged her to marry him to protect him from the advances of another woman who wanted to marry him, she said. In her petition for an annulment of their marriage, she said she never lived with her husband.

Then she handed the court 18 allotment checks totaling $900.

"When Alva went in the Army I saved all his allotment checks," Mrs. Wasson told Judge Sbarbaro. "I didn't think I was entitled to them."

The annulment was granted.

Murder On Park Avenue

Book Only Clue Left In Langford Killing

NEW YORK, June 6—A book containing names of individuals and organizations, with amounts of money noted after each, was found today in the Park ave. home of Mrs. Albert E. Langford whose 63-year-old husband was shot to death Monday night.

Police, stymied in their search for the slayer, studied the entries, which one official said cover a long period and indicate every sum, no matter how trifling, was listed.

There were no notations giving purposes for which the money was paid, police said, adding many names recur frequently. No estimate of the total amount listed was given, but the police official said it was substantial.

The red-haired Mrs. Langford is an art and music patroness and, police said, had contributed to the careers of many men who became successful on the stage or in concert work. Police pursued one theory that two men who tried to force entrance to the apartment may have sought money from her.

Meanwhile, questioning in connection with the killing halted. Police said they had exhausted a list of friends of the slain textile executive and his wife.

More than 70 persons, including several prominent social and theatrical figures, were questioned.

Police continued search for the death weapon and for the two men who went up the Hotel Marguery's main elevator to the Langford apartment shortly before the wealthy businessman was slain.

Nearly two days of intense investigation has left police without a suspect, a motive or a tangible clue.

An authoritative police source said officials investigated a theory the saying occurred when the two men who called at the apartment were thwarted in a robbery plan.

The theory was:

The men went to the fashionable East Side hotel intending to rob Mrs. Langford, having been informed her husband was out of town. They watched the building and when they saw Mrs. Langford's guests leave in the early evening took the elevator to the seventh floor.

When Langford opened the door, the would-be robbers were taken by surprise and asked to talk to his wife. When Mrs. Langford said she didn't want to see them, her husband attempted to eject them and in the tussle was shot. Stunned, the men fled.

Detectives also were working on the theory the shooting was somehow linked to Mrs. Langford's possession of three fabulousy valuable Titian paintings.

These reputed originals of the immortal artist were purchased by Langford's 70-year-old wife about 10 years ago.

Reed Lawton, a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Langford, a former singer, now reported in Chicago on opera business, discovered the three Titian paintings among his father's art collection in Stamford, Ct., in 1935.

New York detectives combed the city's cafe society to question acquaintances of Langford and his wife. Prominent among those with whom police talked was Eve-

Hotels, Restaurants To Get Less Meat

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Hotels and restaurants will get less meats, fats, canned fruits, vegetables and sugar during July and August.

Great Welcome Awaits Patton

Boston is all set to roar a hero's welcome tomorrow to Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., "Blood and Guts," commander of the victorious U. S. Third Army, on his arrival here from Bedford Airport, where his plane from Europe is expected to land at 4:30 p. m.

As he steps from the plane a picked gun crew from the Boston harbor defenses will fire a 17-gun salute, an unusual tribute in wartime. A guard of honor of the 804th Military Police Battalion from Ft. Devens in battle dress will be on hand

Gen. Patton and his party of 50 highly-decorated officers and men from the European battle area will be greeted by Mrs. Patton and a group of close personal friends, as well as by Gov. Tobin and Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles of the First Service Command.

The general and his wife will ride at the head of a motorcade that will wind triumphantly through historic Lexington to Boston, and proceed to the Hatch Memorial shell on the Charles river esplanade, where the brilliant leader will address the assembled throng.

Gov. Tobin will preside at the Esplanade exercises and deliver the address of welcome. Greetings of the city will be extended by Mayor Kerrigan while those of other states will be offered by Gov. Charles M. Dale, of New Hampshire, and Gov. J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island.

The Most. Rev. William J. McCarthy, C. SS. R., will offer the invocation; Rabbi Herman Rubenovitz will offer prayers and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rt. Rev. Raymond A. Heron, D. D., suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts.

The route of the motorcade from Bedford Airport to the esplanade will be as follows:

From the airport along South rd., to Bedford Center, along Route 4 to Massachusetts ave., in Lexington, thence to Memorial dr., Cambridge. Turning right, the parade will cross Cottage Farm bridge to Commonwealth ave., Allston, and head toward downtown Boston, to Arlington st.

Then the motorcade will proceed via Boylston, Tremont, Park and Beacon sts., and Embankment rd. to the Hatch Shell, arriving about 5:30 p. m.

In the evening Gen. Patton will be guest of honor at a State dinner at the Copley-Plaza.

On Friday the Army leader and his staff will leave for his home city of Los Angeles, Cal., where a huge civic celebration awaits him.

Kelly Renews His Plea for State Lottery

Failure of the Legislature to sanction a state lottery "glorifies number pool operators and lets racketeers make millions out of an illegal lottery," declared former Lt.-Gov. Francis E. Kelly today in supporting a measure calling for a state supervised lottery.

"If it is morally wrong to gamble on a state lottery it is wrong to gamble on horse and dog races and that act should be repealed," he told the Joint Ways and Means committee considering several bills advocating lotteries to finance a veterans' bonus.

Kelly said a proposal to levy a state sales tax "would be licked 50 to 1 if the people got a chance to vote on it."

Claude L. Allen of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, opposing the lottery plan, declared "we cannot prostitute the fair name of Massachusetts with a gambling plan where, except in very few instances, citizens' money would be lost."

Sidney M. Williams, president of Massachusetts Civic League, listed his organization in opposition along with the following:

The Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, the Fall River Catholic diocese, Methodist, Congregational and Baptist churches, Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of the Protestant Episcopal Church, League of Women Voters, Teachers' Federation, Parent-Teacher Ass'n, State Federation of Women's Clubs, Council of Churches, and State Grange.

Draft for 60,000 In 26-29 Yr. Lot

WASHINGTON, June 6 (INS)—Some 60,000 men in the 26 through 29-year age group who now hold occupational deferments are scheduled for draft calls during August and September, it was learned today.

The inter-agency committee on draft deferments will not request "exemptions" for the 60,000 men, thus enabling current military quotas of 90,000 a month to be filled.

Educator Denounces Draft in Peacetime

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—The spokesman for a large segment of American education cautioned today against "regimentation of the mind," which he said would result from a peacetime draft law.

First of a group of opposition witnesses expected to be heard during the next three days, A. J. Brunbaugh, vice-president of the American Council on Education, told the House postwar military policy committee:

"It is impossible to give only military training—the body cannot be regimented without comparable regimentation of the mind."

MEDFORD FLIER BUSY

Ens. John J. Meagher, Jr., USNR, of Playstead rd., Medford, has flown his Navy "Wildcat" fighter plane on more than 27 missions against enemy-held territory on Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

White House Mail Biggest in History

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—More mail is pouring into the White House than at any time in the memory of the oldest White House official in point of service.

"The office is snowed under with mail and it is still running strong," Press Sec. Charles G. Ross told newsmen today. He added the mail "follows the same general congratulatory line."

Ross quoted Maurice Latta, executive clerk, who joined the White House staff around the turn of the century, as saying he had never seen such an inpouring of mail as has occurred since the accession of Mr. Truman to the presidency.

Although no figures were given, the volume was described as heavier than the peak receipts during the Roosevelt administration.

$10,000 Fines In Brewery Case

Fines of $5000 each were imposed in federal court today by Judge Ford on the Commonwealth Brewing Co., of Springfield, and its president, Leo Kaufman, of Springfield, convicted by a jury last week of violation of the food, drug and cosmetic act.

Enforcement agents, who seized thousands of cases of the company's beer and ale last year and destroyed them, alleged the beverage contained fluorine, a "poisonous and deleterious matter."

In addition to the fine Kaufman also was given a suspended six-month jail term and placed on probation for three years.

GRAPH SHOWS INS AND OUTS OF OLD SOL

What Is So Rare As the Sun in June?

The sun (remember?) shone in Boston today!

That is, it did and then it didn't, or is that confusing? The way things happen weatherwise lately you can't be blamed for getting mixed up, what with your woolies still clustered snugly around your shivering torso and here it is June 6.

Anyway, here are a few timings to show your grandchildren years from now when the sun will probably shine in June:

Sun Out	Sun In
9:11 a. m.	9:13 a. m.
9:26 a. m.	9:27 a. m.
10:24 a. m.	10:25 a. m.

At 2 p. m. sharp a miniature cloudburst swept downtown streets. However, at 2:09 the sun was shining.

G. Harold Noyes, weather bureau and sun-and-cloud watcher, came up with this explanation for fickle sun:

"Clouds cover the sun intermittently, making it cloudy at some periods and sunny at others."

Along about noon, normalcy broke out and it rained like everyone has come to expect during this most "unusual" June of all Junes. Then it quit raining and folks started looking for snow.

All is not lost, however, in the fruit growing business, according to J. K. Shaw, Massachusetts State College pomologist. He figures there will be good crops of pears and peaches and a chance for limited strawberry yields—IF there is a spell of dry, sunny weather during the ripening period. (Note the IF.)

Bostonians had every right to be chilly in the past 24 hours. The experts who keep tabs on such things report that June 5-6 was the coldest June day in Boston since the weather bureau opened in 1872. Feel better about shivering, now?

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with slightly higher temperatures, it says on the forecast.

Gas Stickers Out June 11, Black Market Licked

"A," "B," "C," and "T" gasoline stickers will not be required as windshield markers after June 11, the OPA announced today.

Officials at the regional office said that with the increase in "B" ceilings, many present "C" card holders whose mileage is less than the new "B" ceilings, will be issued "B" coupons on the next renewal date.

The OPA, it was revealed, now feels that the gasoline black market has been broken and that continued use of stickers would only cause confusion.

"The high degree of compliance with the requirement that consumers endorse their ration coupons and the use of serially-numbered coupons sufficiently identifies the vehicle with the ration-holder," said an OPA spokesman.

Truman Orders Ickes To Seize Oil Plant

WASHINGTON, June 6 (INS)—President Truman today directed Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes to take over and operate plants of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., at Ingleside, Tex.

The President took action as the result of a labor disturbance which, he said is an executive order, threatened interruption of operation of the plants with resultant delay and harm to the war effort.

State Plum to Dever; Tobin Slap at Mayor

First public display of a long-reported break between Gov. Tobin and Mayor Kerrigan came today when the Governor submitted to the executive council the appointment of Joseph P. Dever, ousted Boston Transit Commissioner, as associate commissioner of public works.

Dever, brother of former Atty. Gen. Paul A. Dever and appointed to the city post last December in the last hours of Tobin's regime at City Hall, was summarily removed last Saturday after he had refused Kerrigan's demand for his resignation.

In addition the Governor appointed Boston Public Works Commr. William T. Morrissey as chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, depriving the mayor, in the event of council confirmation, of a department head in whom he placed the highest confidence.

Under council rules, the appointments with others submitted today by the Governor, were put over until next week for action.

Dever, if confirmed, would fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert Whipple while Morrissey would take an office vacated by the death of Eugene C. Hultman.

Tobin fought a futile battle with the council to name Boston Fire Commr. William A. Reilly to the MDC post but Reilly ended the deadlock after 10 weeks by requesting withdrawal of his name.

The Governor lost a similar battle to name H. Oscar Rocheleau to the post of director of fisheries and game when the former Worcester county sheriff asked his appointment be withdrawn.

Today the Governor offered the name of James F. Power, of Fruit st., Hopkinton, for the post, which was made vacant by the resignation of Horatio Dumont. Power is a well known sportsman.

Other appointments submitted today included those of Dr. William H. Griffin, Boston, Public Health council; Dr. Thomas J. Glennon, Woburn, Board of Dental Examiners; Paul A. D'Agostino, Cambridge, industrial accident board; Stephen Duffy, Fitchburg, emergency finance board, and the reappointments of George Dalrymple, Haverhill, to the emergency finance board and Daniel J. Mullane, Chelsea, to the Chelsea board of excise.

At the request of Councilor Joseph A. Clark, of Fall River, the council deferred action for another week on the appointment of former Conservation Commr. Raymond J. Kenney, of Belmont, as director of the division of forestry, submitted a week ago.

MRS. HENRY C. BARR AND DAUGHTER, ELIZABETH
Back Bay Society Matron Wins Uncontested Divorce
INP by Bill Jones

Mrs. H. C. Barr Wins Decree, Twins

Mrs. Elizabeth Lanman Riggs Barr, Back Bay society matron, was granted a divorce from Henry Crocker Barr in Suffolk Probate Court today. She charged cruelty and abuse.

She testified Barr struck her on the mouth when she remonstrated with him over drinking and late hours. They were married Nov. 24, 1919 in Baltimore and lived in Dedham before moving to Boston.

She was given custody of their twins, Richard Devens Barr and Elizabeth Anne Barr, and a monthly allowance of $325 by stipulation.

David C. Percival, Jr., of Boston and Marblehead Neck was awarded a divorce from Esther B. Percival of Beacon st., Brookline, when he charged she was addicted to alcohol and drugs.

Judge Frederick J. Dillon dismissed a cross action by Mrs. Percival and granted the husband custody of two children.

Percival testified his wife used liquor and drugs until he induced her to go to a sanitarium. He said she broke the habit for a year, then resumed.

He said they separated and she moved to a hotel taking the children with her. An agent of the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children testified the apartment she was living in was unkempt and the children were neglected.

Mrs. Doris Kenney, 22, of Carver st., South End, testifying she was the "kissless bride" of Sgt. John T. Kenney, now in India, was granted a divorce by Judge Wilson on grounds of desertion.

She said they were married when she was a 17-year-old Arlington High School student and Kenney was 19. She testified they went to their parents' homes immediately after the ceremony and did not live together.

No Stork Sugar

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6 (AP)—Ration Board No. 1 has denied the request of a woman for 10 pounds of canning sugar for her baby.

When the clerk asked the baby's name the woman replied with devastating feminine logic:

"Oh, the baby isn't born yet, but I want to get my canning done before I go to the hospital."

Waves Win First Air Navigator's Wings

7 N. E. WAVES Win Air Navigator Wings

Seven New England girls were among 80 WAVE officers designated by the Navy today as Naval Air Navigators and are the first women officers in any U. S. military organization entitled to perform duties as a part of a military crew. They will wear the regulation Navy navigator's wings.

One of the first four WAVES to receive her wings was Lt. (jg) Lois Brown, USNR, of Brookhill rd., Milton. The other New England WAVES who qualified were Ens. Margaret W. Barry, of Bloomfield st., Dorchester; Lt. (jg) Frances E. Biadasz, Spring st., Webster; Lt. (jg) Maude E. Fredette, of East Squantum st., North Quincy; Lt. Elizabeth Ryan, of Wright pl., South Hadley; Lt. (jg) Catherine Shalucha, of Park st., Springfield, Vt., and Ens. Jean S. Stone, also of Springfield, Vt.

These WAVES were subjected to the same rigorous training demanded of all air navigators, the Navy announced. While trained primarily to replace navigators assigned to sea duty, they have proved their versatility in every phase of air navigation, and are functioning as navigational instructors.

In addition, these WAVES will serve as transocean navigators.

The new WAVE navigators were trained at the Naval Air Navigator schools at Hollywood, Fla., and at Shawnee, Okla.

Judge Praises OPA, Jails 2

Chiselers who gouge the public and want the OPA abolished should be prosecuted criminally, Judge Ford declared today in Federal Court.

Lashing out at those who violate rationing, Judge Ford said, "Without the OPA, prices would soar so high that people would find it impossible to get any food at all."

The court made the remarks as sentences were meted out to Edward Segal, 25, of Euston st., Brighton, and his brother, George Segal, 34, of Lane pk., Brighton, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy to transfer gas coupons.

Edward Segal received a sentence of a year and a day and George Segal was sentenced to six months.

Balloon Bombs Fall in Michigan

LANSING, Mich., June 6 (INS)—Several Jap balloon bombs have dropped in Michigan, it was disclosed today.

No damage has been done nor has anyone been hurt.

Capt. Don Leonard, director of the Office of Civilian Defense, refused comment beyond issuing a warning to Michigan residents not to touch or handle any strange object which could possibly be either a fallen balloon or a bomb dropped from a balloon.

Sally on Loose

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Obviously bored with zoo life, Sally, a 30-year-old elephant, loosened the bolts and opened her compound door, opened water taps outside the door with her trunk and flooded the Seneca Park zoo building to a depth of several inches early today.

11,737 of 8th Air Force Flown to U. S.

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Lawrence Fritz, commandant of the north Atlantic division of the Army Transport Command, announced today 11,049 crew members and 688 combat bombers of the Eighth Air Force had returned from Europe over the ATC's north Atlantic route in two weeks.

He said the average flow of traffic had been 32 men an hour and one plane every 29 minutes, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

D-Day Anniversary Is Quietly Observed

PARIS, June 6 (AP)—The first anniversary of the Allied landings on the Normandy beaches found the victorious Allies enjoying a holiday today in simple observance of the memorable date.

Just a year ago some 5000 ships poured thousands of fully equipped men on the beaches of France. Overhead thousands of Allied planes droned—some carrying airborne troops.

Today on these same beaches veterans of the invasion—the greatest military achievement in history—honored the memory of those who died.

In accord with Gen. Eisenhower's wishes, formal ceremonies were avoided.

Many American troops who participated in the 11-month battle were preparing to leave for home and discharge or the Pacific and the war with Japan. Others were already home or in transit.

At famous Omaha Beach, where the First and 29th American Infantry divisions stormed ashore a year ago, a simple ceremony was held jointly by the Fifth and Sixth Engineer special brigades, two of the first units to land.

Only a comparatively few members of the brigades of a year ago were on hand, though.

The American flag was raised at noon over what is believed to be the first pillbox captured by he Allies. The pillbox, which ater served as an American comnand post, was dedicated as a nonument to those who fell on)-Day.

At Utah Beach, which was tormed by the Fourth Division as he 82d and 101st Air-borne disions battled for a linkup after dropping inland, there were other ceremonies.

There were no parades, no blaring bands and no long speeches.

Accord Sought On Veto Bill

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6 (AP)—Urgent talks seeking to avoid a permanent Big Five split over the veto-vote issue are reported under way today in both Moscow and San Francisco. Premier Stalin is said to be reviewing Soviet insistence on the right to veto even discussion in a world security council.

President Truman's personal emissary, Harry Hopkins, is handling negotiations in the Russian capital. Secretary of State Stettinius, as chief United States delegate to the United Nations Conference, is holding conferences on the subject here with Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko.

American officials, hoping for an answer from Stalin by this week-end, believe that if the present split aligning Russia against the United States, France, China and Britain continues, small nations will demand that opposing views be put to the test of a conference vote and that the Russian view would be batted down hard.

The Prague radio said today Czechoslovakia had started nationalizing her industries, including the Skoda munitions works at Pilsen and the sprawling Bata shoe factory.

"Provisional managers" were sworn in for 24 industrial enterprises. Among other factories taken over by managers were the Vitkovice Iron Works and the Poldi Foundry, the Prague broadcast said. The Federal Communications Commission recorded the broadcast.

Vice Premier Gottwald said May 12 that the Benes government had decided, not only to nationalize industry, but also banking and insurance.

Murder

lyn Nesbit Thaw, stage beauty of the early 1900's, who was the central figure in America's most spectacular murder case, the slaying of Stanford White, noted architect, almost 40 years ago by Harry K .Thaw.

Langford's widow, It was learned, had been forced twice in the past year to call police when an unidentified man made demands on her for money. Miss Nesbit admitted she was with Mrs. Langford, long an intimate friend, when one of these demands was made.

The only tangible clues were three cartridges found near the body. They were from two revolvers of different caliber.

One man, a singer, underwent the longest questioning. Picked up in a midtown hotel three hours after the murder, he was grilled for 18 hours.

Langford's widow, Mrs. Marion Grimes Langford, has been a widely known patroness of the arts for many years and contributed large sums to the education and careers of numerous young singers.

James Delamatier, 70, elevator operator who took the men to the Langford suite, was able to furnish police with only a meager description of the pair. He said they wore dark suits, felt hats and topcoats.

Mrs. Langford told police her husband was shot when he attempted to dismiss the two men who said they came to talk to her about Rafael Diaz, former Metropolitan Opera singer who died about 18 months ago.

She was in the bedroom, she said, and told her husband she did not wish to see them. He went out to dismiss them.

"I heard a groan and a thud," Mrs. Langford said, "and rushed to the door to find my husband slumped to the floor. No one else was in sight."

Cutbacks Let N. E. Off Lightly

Returning from a Washington conference of War Manpower officials, Arthur C. Gernes, regional WMC director, announced today New England labor areas had not been greatly affected by cutbacks in war industry.

He said there was no indication of any immediate or serious unemployment problem in this area.

Further reductions in war employment must be expected, he explained, but there were demands for increased employment in textiles, leather, lumbering, electrical equipment, machinery and machine tools and rubber products, both for war and civilian use.

He anticipated labor shortages would exist in some New England areas for some time to come.

He estimated 30,000 would lose employment in war and essential industry between May 15 and July 15, 16,000 of these in shipbuilding, but that other "must" firms would require 80,000 workers for expansion of activities.

LICK THE JAPS with the 7th WAR LOAN

ALL OF US WILL WANT to buy all the War Bonds that we can afford. The first six issues soundly thrashed the Germans, and with a bit more effort soon the bestial Japs will be brought to their knees. Let's buy an extra amount this time and get the job over with.

- War Bonds will be our part in surrounding the Japs with a ring of fighting ships which will pour bursting steel into those flimsy cities.
- Bonds will keep the planes flying that sweep that Island Empire from end to end.
- And more and more War Bonds will provide our boys with the finest of fighting equipment, the fury of which soon will make the Nips squawk for peace . . . and unconditional surrender.

Blondes Must Remain Exciting

BOY MEETS GIRL . . . or blonde meets blonde for a double dose of luscious sunlight. And two such striking sun-kissed heads belong to Marilyn Maxwell and Van Johnson. Brunettes have no monopoly on brains . . . a scientist's claim to the contrary . . . but blondes definitely have a stranglehold on the ageless look . . . the grown-up little girl kind of sweet and simple subtlety.

IT TAKES A BRAVE, courageous man to say that while "blondes may be more exotic and glamorous," brunettes are the brainy gals. But, then, men of science are fearless . . . even though Dr. Reg Ambrose's indiscreet, stand we say, distinction between blondes and brunettes . . . recently expressed to the British press recently . . . is a bit off the beam.

We never knew that brunettes held a monopoly on the art of subtle repartee . . . nor have we ever seen a luscious blonde lovely tight lipped when she was the daisy center of an encircling rim of towering masculinity. So, my honey-hair friends . . . don't be disparaged by this scientist's defense of the dark-haired gals . . . but take it from me literature has proved time and time again that sunkissed peaches have been an exclusive preference of many of the opposite sex since time immemoriam.

Actually, the color of a gal's hair has little or nothing to do with her thought waves or mental capacity. Cleopatra, Queen Elizabeth, Empress Victoria, Florence Nightingale and Madame Curie were blondes of varying hues . . . and if we can read history . . . the records of their spell binding deeds and accomplishments will live through time to come.

Brains, or no brains . . . most brunettes, if the truth were known envy the goldilocks type. We do . . . and we're of the dark-haired specie. There is something so soft and cuddly . . . something so clinging and caressing about a beautiful blonde . . . and most blondes to our knowledge are smart enough to appreciate such a natural endowment . . . or create it . . . for their own good and future civilization.

If you're going blonde . . . and many are . . . keep it soft and natural. Steer clear of harsh, straw-like tawniness. Use an oil bleach that in one application conditions, lightens and color tones . . . creates thrilling soft, lustrous blondeness. But we suggest that you have it done for the first time professionally . . . in a salon which specializes in such a treatment . . . then you can continue it for home use between regular treatments. Either way . . . natural or professionally "naturalized" . . . blondes are blossom beauties.

For the name of the oil shampoo tint or the oil bleach in gold, silver or red blonde, phone the Beauty Dept., LIberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fashion

ANOTHER old fogey notion . . . the one that a woman past 30 can't wear cotton . . . has been exploded. Here's a cotton fashion that flatters the mature figure and face . . . since tunics belittle the hips, slim the legs and are fashion right for '45. This one of bright yellow and blue plaid Guatemalan cotton . . . by Martini . . . fits smoothly at the waistline . . . falls in becoming folds over the hips. The underneather is a navy sheath which doubles as a sunback dress.—R. M.

Happy Marriage Data

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Reading your column every day in our local paper, I just can't understand why so many married couples don't get along. We've been married 15 years and, to me, my husband is the grandest man in all the world. We never quarrel; we talk things over, and then work out a solution. Often I see that his plan is better, and he comes over to my way of thinking just about as often.

We were married eight years before we were blessed with a child, and now we have a darling little girl, so we three are pals. (MRS.) Z.

It's a pleasure to publish this letter. Happy marriages do not make news and yet there must be millions of people in this country whose marriage is as happy as my correspondent's. I'd really enjoy getting more letters that tell of talking things out to a happy solution, instead of quarreling.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Tuesday: We are all going to have less sugar in the near future. Our supply is now coming chiefly from the Caribbean area, and the shortage is intensified, of course, by liberation of European countries, since last year these countries made no demands on the United Nations' supplies.

I wonder how many people remember how we saved sugar in the last World War. If they usually used two lumps in their coffee at breakfast time, they were asked to use one lump and put the other back in the sugar bowl. It became a game in our house, and worked very little hardship.

We certainly could do the same thing now. If we also kept a little jug of honey on our tables, perhaps we would get accustomed to pouring honey on many things.

* * *

FOR PEOPLE who are canning and most people with gardens will be canning—there is going to be stricter supervision, to make sure that they use their canning allotment for that purpose only. Some people have used canning sugar for ordinary household use.

I think the OPA is right in making certain that people carry through honestly on their use of canning sugar. I am sure, however, that every effort will be made to give the full reduced allotment to those really trying to preserve food for winter use.

This may be a hardship on many people who have always canned to the very limit of their ability, but there are other ways of preserving some of our foods, and the Department of Agriculture is glad to send information about them.

Good Source of Vitamins And Tip on Correct Cooking

By MARTHA LEE

CABBAGE is one of the vegetables in liberal supply right now and is very inexpensive. It is a good source of vitamins, particularly C, and certain minerals, and its frequent inclusion in menu plans is nutritiously sound.

Cooking cabbage is about the same story as cooking cauliflower. Important points to remember are to leave the lid off the pan, and not to overcook. As with cauliflower, leaving the lid off the pan keeps the vegetable from having too strong an odor, and makes for better flavor.

FIVE-MINUTE CABBAGE

A modern, quick-cooked cabbage dish is Five-Minute Cabbage. For this, heat about 2 cups of milk, add 1½ quarts of shredded cabbage. Cook about 2 minutes. Add another cup of cream or top milk, thickened with 3 tablespoons flour, richened with 3 tablespoons fat. Add salt and pepper to your taste, and cook the cabbage quickly for 3 to 4 minutes, stirring it all the time. Result—crisp cabbage with a delicate flavor, creamy white and pale green, as it was to begin with.

Here is a recipe for cabbage baked in sour cream with onion and green pepper. It is different, well seasoned, and makes wonderful eating. It is a Middle-American recipe. Serve this cabbage dish for luncheon or supper with cold sliced meat, or with roast pork, baked ham or chops.

BAKED CABBAGE WITH SOUR CREAM

3 cups shredded cabbage
2 tbsp. drippings
1 clove garlic 1 onion, sliced
½ green pepper, sliced
½ cup sour cream
1 tsp. salt ¼ tsp. pepper

Fry the garlic in the fat until brown, then discard. Add onion and green pepper and fry gently for 5 minutes without browning. Mix salt and pepper with cream. Mix onion and green pepper with cabbage, stir in remaining fat and the seasoned cream. Bake in a tightly covered casserole for 45 minutes at 375 deg. F. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cole slaw has long been a favorite salad, its tangy crispness enhances many a meal. Almost any fish dish is the better for cole slaw on the side, and it is a delicate teammate for various egg dishes or bean casseroles. This all-time favorite takes on glamor and extra nutritive value when served with a sour cream dressing blended with cottage cheese. The basic dressing is so easy to prepare—merely evaporated milk as it pours from the can acidified with vinegar and with a bit of dry mustard to give it extra zest. Then a half to a cup of cottage cheese—depending on how cheesy you like it—is blended in.

COLE SLAW WITH COTTAGE CHEESE CREAM DRESSING

1 tsp. salt 1½ tbsp. vinegar
¼ tsp. dry mustard
½ cup evaporated milk
½ to 1 cup cottage cheese
3 cups shredded cabbage

Mix salt, vinegar and mustard. Stir slowly into milk. Add cottage cheese and pour over cabbage. Toss before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Grated raw carrot, chopped green pepper or finely diced raw apple combine well with shredded cabbage to make other decorative and taste-pleasing salads. Cottage cream dressing goes well with these combinations and a variety of other fruit and vegetable salads.

BAKED CABBAGE AND APPLES

4 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups sliced tart apples
Salt Pepper
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed 2 tbsp. vinegar
2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Arrange alternate layers of cabbage and apple in greased baking dish. Sprinkle salt and pepper over cabbage and brown sugar over apples. Add vinegar and dot top with butter. Cover and bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

The Trend in Hats

By BETTINA BEDWELL

WHILE THE hat with a pin-head crown is still with us, it is beginning to look more than a little stale, and the new hat with a wide crown, made to human headsize, is getting ready to take its place.

This very big change in millinery styles is gaining at such a rate that we can consider it a real, established fashion.

I have shown you a lot of these wide-crowned hats, and Miss Dulin now brings you another, just to refresh your memories. This one is made of shining black rough straw, and the crown needs no comment. There is a narrow brim, and the trimming is a ruching of pink ribbon with picoted edges which makes a sort of garland around the brim.

Don't Stare

Of course you're deeply and humanly touched when you meet or pass a disabled serviceman. But don't ever stare at him, for this is a sure way to keep him always reminded that he is disabled, a sure way, too, to keep him from being as confident as he is trying with all his might and courage to be.

Gardeners See Record Crops

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School and Director of the Daily Record-American Sunday Advertiser Garden on the Common.

The job of thinning certain vegetable crops is necessary if gardeners expect to produce high quality products. To beginners this job does not always have the emphasis placed on it that it should because they do not realize its importance.

The following reasons for thinning may help to clear up this matter:

1—Such crops as beets, carrots, lettuce, turnip and chard are generally planted from seed which must be sown thick if good stands are to be obtained. After the seed comes up, however, the young plants grow rapidly and need more space. 2—Unless these crops get the proper amount of space they cannot develop straight, well shaped roots and plants are delayed in growth. 3—Delay in growth means poor quality and flavor. 4—The land can only support a certain number of plants per square foot if you expect to maintain fertility.

With these points in mind gardeners should realize that thinning or proper spacing of crops is a practical job and must be done religiously.

This year's crop of plants are all more or less leggy or tall, due to so much cloudy weather in May. I have already suggested that results will be better if these plants are set deep. My observation during the past week, however, has been that many gardeners are not doing this, with the result that many plants are being broken by the wind.

Again let me suggest that you make a trench and bury all but about eight inches of the plant for best results.

WORLD'S WORST SLAVERY

THE ORIGINAL charter placed before the United Nations Conference in San Francisco was weak and inadequate in many respects, as the many amendments offered by all of the participating nations attest.

But one of its greatest weaknesses, in the light of recent world experience, was its failure to include any provision for international opium control.

And among the hundreds of amendments offered, not one even mentions this vital subject.

International control of opium was one of the very few activities of the old League of Nations which functioned efficiently throughout the life of the organization, and in fact it continued to function after the present war obliterated practically all other agencies of the League.

The international opium controls established by the League have been observed throughout the war, even in countries occupied by the enemy.

Surely the new world organization, which will probably emulate all too many of the mistakes of the old League, should at least salvage the only successful enterprise of its predecessor which is still living.

International opium control should have an important place in the new United Nations organization, providing for world agreements to supervise the use and SUPPRESS THE ABUSE of narcotic drugs.

There is no form of slavery on earth more destructive of human life than SLAVERY TO DRUGS.

Unfortunately, it is also one of the most PROFITABLE of all forms of slavery—and many governments have not been above sharing and even monopolizing these iniquitous profits.

TOO HIGH

CAMBRIDGE has taken thirty-five cents off its $38.25 tax rate, which will be good news to oppressed property owners of the city who do not have to be reminded that the rate used to be $46.30.

Now, the man with a $5000 Cambridge home will be able to afford an extra carton of cigarettes or a pound of steak if he has the right contacts and the necessary persistence.

But, even though he be fortified with nicotine and meat, he will still be obliged to pay the hardly-to-be-scoffed-at sum of $189.50 a year for the privilege of staying under his own roof.

Of course, that is much too much.

A tax rate of $37.90 is an inexcusable, if not unbearable, imposition on the people.

What is true of Cambridge is also true of other cities and towns with tax rates over thirty dollars.

The municipality which desires its rightful share of postwar prosperity and employment opportunities for all its people, including the brave lads who are fighting and winning the battles on which democracy's existence depends, must dispense with boondoggling and pare its tax rate more substantially than thirty-five cents.

WAKE UP!

OUT IN Culver City, Cal., an enterprising manufacturer has announced an airplane capable of carrying 750 soldiers with full equipment.

This mammoth sky liner, traveling almost with the speed of a bullet, can cross the Atlantic in less time than it now takes to go by train from Boston to Washington.

Engineering achievements like this should arouse and awaken our Massachusetts officials and speed the now-authorized $15,000,000 development of the international airport at East Boston.

If we want the huge flying vessels of the future to bring prosperity to Boston, we must have fully up-to-date facilities.

We cannot expect to compete with aviation-minded cities like New York if all we have to offer the great cargo planes is a slightly altered cow pasture.

AM ASKED in what poem Robert Browning referred to astrology. Above is an excerpt from his poem "Evelyn Hope." It would appear Miss Hope was born under Scorpio. Hedy Lamarr was born under this sign. So were Vivien Leigh and Eleanor Powell. Scorpio people are supposed to be very lucky. Elizabeth Barrett, the girl Browning finally married, was born under the sign of Pisces . . . FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, June 6—As that wonderful new world of the future comes nigher and nigher I find my enthusiasm for television well under control.

Westbrook Pegler

Television will be, for several years, a crude and expensive disappointment and its clients, or consumers, will pay high for the slow improvements of a primitive experiment.

The gaudy come-on, in which thousands of young fighting men are encouraged to believe that they will rank as "experts" at high salaries, is a heartless imposition on their hopes.

Not one in a hundred of these radio and radar technicians will come out of the service with knowledge and experience in the field of electronics superior to that of a garage mechanic in the realm of automotive engineering.

When I say that television will be an expensive disappointment, I rely on the example of audio radio which has been a pretentious, mysterious, over-rated contraption all its life to date.

IN THE PHONOGRAPH department a device has been exploited as the greatest mechanical marvel since the invention of the wheel which is, in fact, a kind of adaptation of the commonplace timer that is a part of the cheapest automobile.

This thing has from 90 seconds to several minutes to make up its mind, move into position and do its simple little job of turning the pancake or lifting it up and away.

But the latest statistics on the subject, which I just made up and personally guarantee, reveal that 72 per cent of them haven't worked since Pearl Harbor and that, on the average, they work only 24 times before the need arises for a mechanic at $1 an hour plus transportation to and from the job.

Frequently, this mechanism is not fit to be mentioned with the ordinary dollar watch of 30 years ago. As furniture, the cabinets, in which wires, bulbs, coils and moose-calls are housed, are hardly superior to other factory-made furniture and are, in many cases, monstrous.

Meanwhile, the radio industry, using these machines for its outlet, have been wanton in some cases and, at best, negligent in its stewardship. The air belongs to the American people but has become an avenue of political propaganda and Communist penetration.

IT HAS BEEN said that the newspapers also employ professional opinionarians to analyze news and that is correct.

But the difference is that radio welcomes as a martyr any psychopathic liar who has been thrown out of the paper because of proven malice and falsehood and at present provides an audience for one set of blackguards while denying the same facilities to another group.

If it barred Communists and the evil personalities which voice their propaganda as resolutely as it smothers two or three notorious preachers of hate of the opposite school, it would deserve public trust and respect.

Television plans to use Hollywood movies and ham in the flesh as a "social force," disguised as entertainment and education.

SAMUEL J. NOVICK is one of those who have had the fine public spirit to organize a television company to enlighten the American people on social and political problems after the war.

That is particularly kind of Mr. Novick, considering that he comes from Russia, but popular gratitude will be less than it might be when the patients are reminded that he has associated himself with a group of radicals in the new concern, that he has a radio company in Mexico and, finally, that he is the radio sponsor of Gailmor, aged 34, weight 200 pounds, who has poured out propaganda and even lectured sick soldiers under Army auspices while other men fought battles.

Television has a generous plan for the children in that wonderful world of the future, the idea being to throw television right into the public schools, using both movies and ham on the hoof wired direct from Hollywood.

Thus, the kiddies will learn further developments in the lessons of the films which thus far have depicted the U. S. A. as a land of crime, poverty and ignorance and Congress as a body of knaves and fools and Soviet Russia the land of promise.

Young Bill was bobby-sox bait from the minute he flashed on the screen in "Those Endearing Young Charms." The kids squealed—Bill was made — and just as short a time back as last January no one had even heard of him.

Sonja Henie

I thought I scented romance in the air when I learned that Barbara Hale will be his leading lady in his first starring opus. The kids are constantly together. But, no, they say "no engagement." "Tomorrow Is Here" is a postwar story by Pamela Harris dealing with a baseball player who loses a leg in the war and goes on to become a famous coach.

I MET LANA TURNER buying a St. Christopher medal for Turhan Bey, who is a private at Ft. MacArthur. Lana admits she is lonely for Turhan, but says she starts "The Postman Always Rings Twice" early next week and she will be glad to be busy. John Garfield has already been on the M-G-M lot consulting with Tay Garrett, the director.

BEFORE Sonja Henie left Hollywood she told me, "More than anything else, Louella, I want to go to Norway. But I don't know whether I will be permitted to go home or not. No civilian has yet been granted permission and it would have to be arranged through the British government." I told Sonja I would keep my fingers crossed for her—and sure enough, word came today that the blonde skating star has received her permit and will be the first civilian to be given a visa to Norway. It won't be just a personal visit, either, for Sonja will be asked to report conditions she finds in her homeland. Right now she's in Paris on a USO hospital tour.

THERE WAS a real reunion when Lt. Com. Joel Pressman got back in town after 16 months at sea. Claudette Colbert, his bride of seven or more years, finished work on "Tomorrow Is Forever" the very day Jack, as she calls him, landed in town. He now gets shore duty here, which doesn't make Claudette mad, for he has been away most of the time since the war started. Claudette and Jack are spending his leave in Carmel, where Claudette is also getting her health back. She was quite sick with flu while she was making her picture.

I'VE GOT my own private ideas about whether Jimmy Cagney would accept the coast run of "The Glass Menagerie"—but Bill Liebling, who represents the producers, is out from New York for this very reason. I'll grant you that Cagney would be perfect for the male lead, but it's really a woman's starring vehicle as Laurette Taylor has already proved. Cagney is too smart an operator where Cagney is concerned to play second fiddle to anyone. But if the play were ever brought to the screen, it might be rewritten to throw the weight to the man—and that might be up Jimmy's street.

JUST AS the Broadway curtain rings up on "Memphis Bound" (John Willlberg's Negro version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore") Paramount is trying to get it for Bing Crosby and Charles Winninger. Of course, with Bing and Charlie in the lineup it will not be in black-face—but then when Wildberg first came into the deal to produce the show he intended it as an all-white cast, headed by Winniger and Kenny Baker. "Memphis Bound" opens in New York, June 24, with Bill Robinson starred and it already has the all-time record advance ticket sale.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Somerset Maugham is in town, the house guest of George Cukor. He's here to discuss "Razor's Edge" with 20th; Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., 'tis whispered, will be offered a diplomatic post after the war and he may accept; our town is sparkling with distinguished visitors. Ethel Barrymore is here to discuss her next picture, "Miss Hargreaves," with Harriet Parsons and William Dozier. This is the first time Ethel has been here since she won the Academy Award; John Deering, radio and screen actor, who suffered a complete collapse four years a-go, is beginning to say he is taken on his feet again and will soon be well enough to work when Anita O'Day faces Gabby gets back it's week; she'll bring Joan Tetzel, New Sci-nick actress, with her; Joseph Stanley Pennell, author of the best selling "History of Roger Hanks" is in a St. Louis hospital suffering from a lung condition.

ELSIE ANDERSON, Huntz Hall's ex, has made her rumored engagement to Dr. Edward Gorson official. It was first announced here; believe me, these are no days to travel. Olivia de Havilland was "bumped off" the plane three times on the trip from Boston to Hollywood and the same thing happened to Jacqueline White, trying to make it from "The Yearling" location in Florida; Vincent Gage, editor of the "Debutante Register" is in our midst looking over the West Coast junior socialites; Frances Langford's debut as mistress of ceremonies on her own air show was a honey. The gal's good, good, good; Ruth Chatterton's friends dropped in at Wynn Rocamora's cocktail party to greet her. She will be here two weeks longer and then she will go East for rehearsals on her stage show. She tells me she wants Lee Tracy for the male lead and that it's a part made for him; Mrs. Bess Stack is a proud mother and with good cause. Her son, Robert, has just been made a full lieutenant in the Navy. Buy bonds at your favorite motion picture theater.

WASHINGTON, June 6—If you will just read this carefully I think you will be well-rewarded by being driven nuts. It already has done as much for the Undersecretary of the Navy and sundry officials of the Office of War Information and the Manpower Commission.

Medium and light units of the three government agencies clashed in terrific battle. The OWI launched the original attack under hot air cover, scoring direct hits in the Navy's fantail, or stern. The Navy was limping badly in the end

To anyone not personally familiar with confusion on the Potomac the whole thing may seem incredible, but it's gospel. Here's what happened:

Around 10 o'clock in the morning, Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal held a press conference. He was surrounded by a covey of admirals wearing enough gold stars to ornament a community Christmas tree.

Secretary Forrestal and the admirals announced that a critical manpower shortage exists in the Pacific Coast repair yards; that these yards are jammed to overflowing with warships damaged on Pacific fighting fronts; that in fact, the situation is so bad the wounded aircraft carrier Franklin had to be brought around to the East coast—an added 3000 miles—because men and facilities were not available to repair her in the West.

They issued an appeal for 15,000 more shipyard workers to go immediately to the Pacific yards, which have been losing workers at the rate of more than 600 a day. A similar appeal was made from the Pacific by Admiral Chester A. Nimitz.

THE STORY went out to all the nation's newspapers, most of which carried it front page. The radio re-echoed it all day long

One of the largest networks wanted to freshen it up a bit before serving it for dinner on a 7 p. m. broadcast. So it conceived the brilliant notion of asking the Navy to supply one of its high dignitaries for the re-hashing. In the parlance of radio this is known as a "live" broadcast

The Navy designated Undersecretary Ralph A. Bard. He and his public relations writers whipped together a two-minute speech

Now, for the whoop-la!

The OWI has no control over press conferences—although it recently attempted, without success, to compel government big shots to submit an outline of what they intended to tell the press, so OWI might give "counsel and guidance."

However, OWI does not clear speeches. (Ed. Note: OWI dislikes the horrid word "censorship" so it calls it "clearance.")

OWI, therefore, insisted on clearing Undersecretary Bard's speech. The job of censoring—clearing—was assumed by Mr. Charles "Jack" Durham, who reported back that OWI would not clear the speech because the War Manpower Commission objected.

Mr. Durham, whose previous newspaper experience, incidentally, consisted of cub reporting on small Texas papers, was told he was being ridiculous. That the story had been in the press and on the air all day. Mr. Durham retorted it made no difference.

★ ★ ★

IT SEEMS WMC's information head, Miss Sophie Nack, had voiced the objection. Miss Nack, incidentally, has had no newspaper or radio experience at all.

Miss Nack said she had discussed the Bard speech with her people, and that they didn't like it at all.

One of the things they didn't like, she said, was the statement that 15,000 shipyard workers had left their jobs. She intimated strongly that—if such were the case—it was really the Navy's fault anyway.

The Navy, she implied, had been very lax in not giving the shipyard people advance notice that a lot of ships were going to be damaged in the fighting around Okinawa, and would have to be repaired. Maybe, she hinted, if the repair crews had known this was going to happen they would have stayed on the job.

Boston After Dark

TWO OLD FRIENDS of the Roosevelt Administration, Cong. John W. McCormack and Joseph E. Casey (former congressman from Clinton), are high in favor again under Mr. Truman . . . Decidedly NOT in favor is a man the prognosticators held in such esteem that they "appointed" him Attorney General—before consulting President Truman . . . He is Hugh Fulton, the New York lawyer who worked faithfully with the Truman Committee in preparing briefs and cases for that body's complaints against governmental bungling.

MR. TRUMAN will get his first small surcease from the worries of Washington and "the toughest job in the world" immediately after his visit to the peace-mappers at San Francisco . . . He has accepted an invitation to pass a few days in a state of Washington retreat with his old friend and former Senate colleague, Gov. Waldron. (Washington hasn't been told yet of his plans.)

SAILING on the first passenger ship to cross the Atlantic without convoy since the war is Dr. Kathleen Spellman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Spellman of Chestnut Hill . . . Dr. (Miss) Spellman is making the voyage on a professional assignment . . . A bon voyage party was given her by Dr. and Mrs. John McLauren of Dallas, Tex., parents of Dr. Robert McLauren of the Peter Bent Brigham staff, who attended also.

EXCLUSIVE: Washington is debating a plan to check on black marketeers and big income tax dodgers by asking the banks to demand identities of persons offering big bills to be changed . . . Bills of $1000 denomination and upwards (although there aren't many $10,000 notes in circulation) have suddenly become "hot," with rumors making the rounds that banknotes exceeding the $50 are to be called in . . . (Such vaporizings to date are merely rumors however.)

BERT LYTELL, of "The Wind Is Ninety," has his own nook—in a far corner—of the spacious Town House restaurant, where he has dined every night since he arrived in town.

Once a star of the silent films and prior to that a ranking leading man on Broadway, Mr. Lytell is president of Actors' Equity Ass'n.

ONE OF THE GREAT theatrical producers of the fabulous Twenties, Laurence Schwab of "Good News," "The Desert Song," "The New Moon," and "Follow Thru" fame, and discoverer of Mary Martin (among several stars), is in town for a day . . . Laurence is a Somerville native who, irked by being fired by a Boston newspaper for his too-candid critique of a theatrical attraction, skipped to Broadway and proceeded to amass one of the solid fortunes in the theater . . . Larry has taken residence in Miami Beach, and has turned his hand to writing for slick-paper magazines.

MR. SCHWAB BRINGS NEWS of a spectacular theatrical adventure about to be taken officially by the City of Miami Beach . . . The city fathers have appropriated $500,000 for the building of a municipal opera, to be fashioned after the famous St. Louis Municipal Opera Company . . . As Mr. Schwab was the most successful director-manager of the St. Louis venture, Miami Beach was fortunate in having him, a resident of the tropical resort-town, on hand to handle the reins of the city's ambitious enterprise.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I am soon to be married. My fiance's father received Family Allowance as he is dependent and has no income of his own. When I receive Family Allowance will this cause a reduction in the amount paid to him? J. B., Cambridge.

A—No, it will not cause a reduction. The serviceman will contribute $5 more a month in addition to the $22 he is now giving and his father will continue to receive the same amount now paid to him.

Q—Under the loan provisions of the GI Bill of Rights, does the government make the loan, and which department is handling such loans? M. R. D., Cambridge.

A—The government does not make the loan; it merely guarantees or insures half of the total amount, not exceeding $2000, to the private lending institution which makes the loan. Thus the maximum that a veteran can borrow is $4000 to purchase or build a home, farm or business.

Q—My husband is a warrant officer in the Army. He has had an allotment paid to his mother, but none to me. She died this month. Can the allotment now be paid to me instead? D. H., Cambridge.

A—The type of allotment paid to dependents of a warrant officer is Class E, and may be authorized, changed or discontinued only by the officer himself. It is suggested that you contact him, and request that he authorize an allotment for you.

Q—My son is overseas and wants to send money home to be saved for him. I have received two checks, each for $25, from the Office of Dependency Benefits in New Jersey. I am not dependent upon him and want to know what to do about the checks. N. P., Melrose.

A—The Office of Dependency Benefits issues both Family Allowance and Class E allotment checks. Your son has authorized a Class E allotment of $25, to be deducted from his pay. You need do nothing about the checks.

Q—Can you tell me where the 9th Army is now and why mothers, wives, etc., are not hearing from relatives with this Army since late April? Can the wives of soldiers in the Army of Occupation go overseas so as to be with husbands? "ANXIOUS," Malden.

A—I wish I could answer your question fully, but it is impossible, according to War Dept. officials to state exactly where 9th Army members are now. No doubt there will be a great many of them homeward bound shortly. Unable to answer letter writing problem. Suggestions and plans have been offered to War Dept. regarding wives joining husband members of Army of Occupation. Nothing definite has been done thus far.

Q—Would you tell me where I might obtain address of a friend that is in the Navy? R. L., Lynn

A—Only immediate relatives of a serviceman may obtain address.

Costly Film At Para-Fen

"Flame of the Barbary Coast," opening today at the Paramount and Fenway Theaters, has been booked into 2499 other theaters throughout the country in observance of Republic Pictures' 10th anniversary.

Republic Pictures' "Flame of the Barbary Coast," with John Wayne, Ann Dvorak and Joseph Schildkraut, is the studio's costliest production in a period of growth that has exceeded any other in the past decade. Each year Republic Pictures has been producing four to six top budget productions at a cost of $500,000 to $1,000,000 apiece. In its anniversary year, Republic has scheduled 10 to 13 productions at a cost of $1,500,000 each.

To handle big-scale production Frank Borsage and Alfred Santell were recently added to the staff, with negotiations now going on for other top flight producers.

"Mexicana" has already gone into production under Santell's direction with Constance Moore and Tito Guizar featured. The first of the Borzage productions, "Concerto," the first of a number of Technacolor productions to be made this year, is scheduled for next month.

Other forthcoming Grade-A productions will be "The Cheaters," "Love, Honor and Good-bye," "The Uninvited Guest," "The Fabulous Texan" and "Dakota." "Dakota" is now being written as a starring vehicle for John Wayne by Howard Estabrook, responsible for such fine screenplays as "Cimarron" and "Human Comedy."

JOAN FONTAINE rings the bell as a comedienne in "The Affairs of Susan," the Hal Wallis production co-starring Miss Fontaine with Walter Abel, Don Defore, George Brent and Dennis O'Keefe, which is now in its second week on the Metropolitan screen.

An Intelligence Quiz For Every U.S. Citizen

By AUSTEN LAKE

(Reprinted by Request)

GIVE ME FIVE MINUTES of your reading time! Relax and open the pores of your conscience! You are about to be psychoanalyzed; measured for the internal stuff called "soul force." Let's begin by being SINCERE.

Austen Lake

Here's the first step in your valuation—a paragraph of simple fact to condition your mind for self-analysis:

Only a scant 4.5% of our national population is on or headed for the actual firing line in the Pacific—perhaps 6,000,000 men. Another 3.9% are in uniform—about 5,000,000. The rest of us, or roughly 121,000,000 men, women and children, are living fairly normal, stay-at-home lives. We have not been violently dislocated from familiar grooves, or habitual standards or essential needs. To be sure the old luxury norm has slumped a few pegs. But we're still living on comparative velvet.

Now, aren't we?

If your answer is "YES" you have passed the preliminary candor test and are ready for the $18.75 question, which is not, "What are we fighting for," but "Are we all fighting?"

Well ARE we?

You Fall in One of Three Groups

THE FAULT WITH US AT HOME is that not enough of us plain-clothes citizens regard ourselves as just as essential fighters as the lean, frost-nipped, or sun-bitten kid who used to jerk sodas at your corner drug store, or delivered your milk bottles, or rolled out your ashes, and now is crouching in some distant foxhole listening to the hornet hum of enemy bullets.

Many of us are inclined—subconsciously of course, to think of ourselves as a vast, national cheering section as though we were sitting on the sidelines of a gigantic football game and rooting our side across the last white line. Our loyalties, with a few exceptions, are undoubted. We're ready to shout our larynxes loose every time OUR team gets away for some hard-earned yardage.

So how much of this fight we take active part in is a matter of individual conscience, which Noah Webster says is the "sense of moral responsibility for one's own conduct." So now you are ready for the $100 question, which is:

Have you bought your extreme quota of war bonds?

And here is where you psychoanalyze yourself! Observe the reaction to that printed enquiry on your mind. One of three things happened: (1) It set in motion a defense mechanism of self-justification and thoughts of "high living" and "income taxes," or (2) You QUIT reading at this point and snorted "Oh that hokum again . . . money appeals . . . nothing but money appeals," or (3) You said, "Tarnation I've been meaning to do that. I'll do it NOW."

You, dear reader, fall into ONE of those catagories! THAT is the kind of citizen you are. And if you deem this impudence on my part, that is STILL the kind of citizen you are. And I'll try to tell you why!

Appeal Versus Demand

LATELY THE WORD "GOVERNMENT" has had an irksome ring. So let's substitute "Nation." Then please weigh another word, "Appeal"—the "NATION APPEALS to you" for $14,000,000,000 war loan, of which the individual's quota (that's US) is $7,000,000,000 or one half. It does not "Demand," or requisition, or levy on surplus wealth to the sum of $73.03 for every man, woman and child—as the Axis countries have done time and again.

The Axis TOOK, or takes, what it wanted, instantly and irrevocably with no obligation to repay. It skimmed the top and gave the left over slops to the people. There's neither pride nor freedom nor patriotism in that. What the Axis has taken is swallowed up forever.

We are merely asked to LEND at a substantial rate of interest. Nor is our investment frozen. It's still a pool of liquid cash ready for translation in event of money pinch. No snooping Gestapo agent or storm trooper knows whether you are buying war bonds or whether, having bought, you are selling again. It's between yourself, your conscience and your banker. And that why your reaction to bond buying is a fair measure of the kind of citizen YOU ARE.

In one sense every American, man-jack or women-jill, whatever their generation on this soil, is a REFUGEE. Whether your antecedents are European or Asiatic, they came here to escape some form of oppression. The American Negro is the lone exception! All others came to escape the distempers of the Old World—some to flee from poverty, or squalor, some to escape religious tyranny, or to find social sanctuary and freedom from political coercion.

And each of our forefathers in his time came questing an honest opportunity. They set their roots in this soil and flourished or failed according to their abilities. But, pshaw, everybody knows that!

But not everybody reflects that the same European and Asiatic distempers from which we, or our progenitors fled, are the same, identical distempers which still threaten to overwhelm us old-time refugees and put us BACK into the slough of squalor, tyranny and oppression. We have defeated one threat! Another remains!

We are still refugees and we have an investment in this nation which transcends possessions, property and wealth—an investment in the most valuable of all intangibles, SECURITY from the opposite of the FOUR FREEDOMS—to wit, the FOUR TERRORS of mankind: Bigotry, Fear, Gag-rule and Poverty.

So the 7th War Loan is less an appeal to your pocketbooks than one directed at your INTELLIGENCE. No one needs a better system of self-analysis than that. Do you pass the test?

Heving Big Asset to B's

By BILL GRIMES

PHILADELPHIA, June 6—A bird has just as much chance to fly on one wing as a major league club has to figure in a pennant race without an experienced relief pitcher. Possibly the reason the Braves have been floundering around year after year in the second-division has been because they have operated without a hurler with the temperament, courage, experience and ability, to cool off opponents who become unruly in the late innings.

The Braves have lost at least a half-dozen games this season because Manager Bob Coleman didn't have a first-class relief pitcher.

John Hutchings, Charlie Cozart, Tom Earley, Hal Schacker, Jimmy Wallace and Ben Cardoni haven't got what it takes to do relief duty even in wartime.

In 15 games, Braves relief pitchers have issued, believe it or not, 51 walks. You can't win with that brand of pitching.

From now on, however, Joe Heving will do most of the relieving for Braves hurlers, who get in trouble. Only in extreme emergencies will any of the other second string hurlers be called upon to go into action.

Heving joined the Braves a week ago today in St. Louis. He signed his contract the previous Monday in Cincinnati, returned to his home in Cleveland, straightened out his affairs and reported to Coleman.

Although he kept himself in shape during the off season, Heving hadn't thrown a ball since last fall. Yet, with only four days of what could be called his spring training, Joe went to Big John Hutchings' rescue last Saturday in Chicago and knocked the Cubs right back on their heels.

Big John pitched a pretty good game after home runs by Tommy Holmes and Phil Masi in the 3rd inning had given him a two run lead to work on. He tired, however, in the 6th and but for a sensational catch by Chuck Workman, which retired the Cubs with two men aboard, the Braves would have lost the game in that round. Then, with one down in the 7th, Frank Drews allowed a slow grounder off Bill Nicholson's bat to roll up his arm. Apparently, Hutchings was upset by Drew's error, for Andy Pafko singled, as did Paul Gillespie, who batted for Lennie Merullo, scoring Nicholson.

Realizing that tiring Hutchings was in serious trouble and required immediate help, Coleman called Heving in from the "bull pen" and he saved the day.

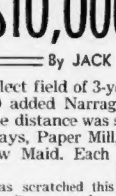
Crack 3-Year-Olds Race For $10,000 at Gansett

By JACK CONWAY

IT IS a select field of 3-year-olds which was to compete in the $10,000 added Narragansett War Bond race this afternoon. The distance was six furlongs and the entries included Nowadays, Paper Mill, Tiger Man, Kewey Dee, Beldine and Snow Maid. Each 3-year-old was to carry 115 pounds.

Paper Mill was scratched this morning, leaving five contenders.



Judge Dooley

Racing Secretary Ty Shea declared he believed the race would be replete with thrills, and that the competition would be close. Shea, like President Dooley and other Narragansett Park officials, was hopeful that the track would be in better condition that it was today, "good" at noon. The recent rains have not done race tracks or victory gardens any good. A little sunshine would be appreciated by the horsemen as well as by the gardeners.

The $10,000 race is an added feature of Narragansett Park's Spring Meeting. President Dooley felt that the race would be good promotion for the sale of war bonds and that it would also give the horsemen some extra revenue. With a record mutuel handle despite the poor weather conditions, the Narragansett Park management was anxious to let the horsemen share in its good fortune.

Derby on Saturday

THERE IS intense interest in the Kentucky Derby, scheduled to be held on Saturday, even though there are no standout horses in the classic. It is expected that there will be 10 to 11 starters, and that the race will be witnessed by between 60,000 and 70,000 persons.

The ODT insists that it be a trolley car Derby, and Col. Matt Winn has complied with this request. Col. Winn says there are enough people in Kentucky interested in horse racing to assure the Derby of a capacity crowd.

All hotels in Louisville are sold out. This condition has existed for many months as a result of war work. The executives of companies with offices in Kentucky will, of course, find a business reason for their presence in Louisville on Saturday. As an incidental part of their business trip, they will try to have a few tickets on the right horse in the Derby.

Even newspapermen have found it difficult to secure hotel reservations in Louisville. Frank Menke, director of publicity for the Derby, has agreed to furnish working press tickets for reporters assigned to cover the race, but he says he cannot promise a room to anyone. Maybe Frank will make arrangements to pitch a few tents in the infield at Churchill Downs for the visiting firemen.

The Sunday Advertiser will have complete news coverage of the race as well as wire photos of the classic.

Will Chandler Attend?

HAPPY CHANDLER, high commissioner of baseball, has not announced whether he would attend the Derby as he frequently has in former years. Chandler, at a New York press conference, insisted he did not attack racing when he got his $50,000 a year job with baseball. He says he opposed ball players and umpires gambling on anything and that he did not specify horse racing.

Chandler did not gain favor for himself or for baseball by his alleged attack on horse racing. Baseball should clean its own house before it starts telling other sports how they should be conducted and who is qualified to attend them.

The baseball commissioner also stated he has not taken any salary from baseball. Happy does not wish to be placed in the position of taking money from baseball while still holding down his seat in the U. S. Senate.

Race Tax Rise Bill OK'd to House

The controversial Shattuck bill, aimed at boosting the state's tax on horse and dog racing bets, today was favorably reported to the House by the ways and means committee after reducing the proposed increases on horse race "handles."

The committee submitted no estimate of the added revenue to be realized under the revised measure but Rep. Henry L. Shattuck of Boston, sponsor of the bill, set $2,000,000 as his idea of the increase under the original proposal.

Under the committee's revisions, horse tracks would pay 3½ per cent on money bet up to $450,000; four per cent between $450,000 and $500,000; 4½ per cent between $500,000 and $550,000; five per cent from $550,000 to $600,000; 5 ½per cent on all over $600,000.

The committee made no change on Shattuck's suggested increases for dog tracks.

Park Leaguers Will Try Again

Rained out in their last night's Park League games, two Roxbury entrants—the Hal Crosby Club and the McCarthy Club—will set the stage for a knockdown, drag-out battle for first place in the standings that has been brewing for the three full weeks of the young season, at the Rotch Playground in the South End tonight.

The only other Park League game on the docket finds the powerful Dick Casey Club travelling to Billings Field in West Roxbury to meet the Hicks Engineers, present tenants of fifth place in the League standings. Charlie Bishop is the Hicks choice while portsider "Cy" Epstein will counter for the Casey's on the mound.
